INTRODUCTION

1.1 Overview

The website is built on local host using wordpress which is then migrated to goDaddy for hosting. Wordpress has many plugins, themes and templates which makes it easy for making a website where built-in code is already written for all of those. Elementor is a special formatting tool which makes web designing even more easy to drag and drop the contents. I have chosen the theme as Food and Drinks where I have built a website which enables users to find recipes for cooking on the following categories:

- Breakfast
- Lunch
- Snacks/Sweets
- Dinner

The website contains following pages:

1. Home
2. About Me
3. Recipe Categories
4. Recipes
 1. Breakfast
 2. Lunch
 3. Snacks/Sweets
 4. Dinner
5. Contact Us
6. Privacy Policy
7. Blog

Finally, the main aim of the website is to enable users to find as many as recipes they want with a video of explanation, ingredients list and recipe all at one place. And also on every page there is an option for users to send their delicious recipes to be published on the website which can be further updated into the website.

1.2 Purpose

The purpose of the website is to enable users to find recipes for cooking and also to encourage users who are good at cooking to send their recipes and get some honour and money. This website might help many housewives to come forward, share ideas and recipes and get famous and get some pocketmoney from the comfort of their homes.

LITERATURE SURVEY

2.1 Existing problem

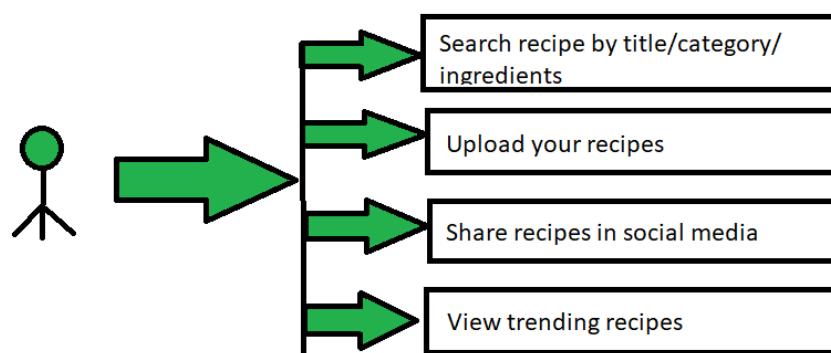

The major problem is that there are not many websites which provide recipes in both video and text formats and also not many websites ask users to submit recipes and provide them some recognition and value for the amount of time they have spent. And there are not many websites which could provide employment opportunities to housewives or to the ones who could cook delicious and tasty foods, and healthy recipes. And all these drawbacks should be overcome.

2.2 Proposed Solution

The solution for all the drawbacks found out in the existing website is building a website which enables all those features which are lacking. I have built a website which enables users to find recipes if they are hungry and try experimenting them, it also enables them to improve their cooking abilities. And it has an option for people who are good at cooking to submit their recipes and earn some money or fame which could be provided through their mail-ids. This website would mostly be useful for housewives whose talent in cooking is going in-vain, it encourages everyone to send recipes and which get reviewed by us and published on the site. Providing employment opportunities to housewives, or foodies and providing the busy working people a detailed recipe with a video within to cook quickly and providing some healthy recipes are all the proposed solutions using a website.

THEORETICAL ANALYSIS

- Using elementor tools

FLOWCHART

RESULT

A healthy and user friendly website is built and hosted which can be used by anyone with interest in cooking or anyone who want to learn cooking delicious dishes.

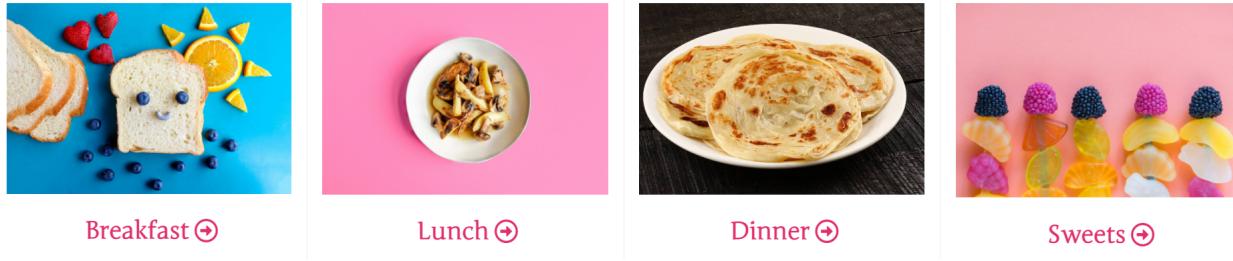

The screenshot shows a WordPress dashboard with a theme titled "Foodies Palace". The dashboard includes standard navigation like Customize, New, Edit Page, and Edit with Elementor, along with user information "Howdy, admin". Below the dashboard, there are two recipe cards:

Perfectly Sweet Lunch With Choco Milk
Balance it out with chocolate milk! Celery with peanut butter and raisins: Everybody loves these easy-to-make treats. It's not too sweet, not too savoury.

Italian Pasta With Tomatoes And Onion
Besides being good to eat, when cooked properly and consumed in the right amounts, pasta with tomatoes helps you stay fit and slim. "This dish provides carbohydrates, vitamins"

The screenshot shows the homepage of a WordPress site titled "Foodies Palace". The header includes navigation links for Home, About Me, Recipe Categories, Recipes, Contact Us, and a search icon. A large, vibrant image of a blue smoothie bowl topped with various fruits like raspberries, blueberries, and dragon fruit serves as the background. Below the image, there's a pink button labeled "Recipes". The main content area features the title "Foodies Palace" and the tagline "FIND RECIPES FOR ANYTHING". A subtitle below the tagline reads "A place for learning cooking and sharing your tasty recipes...".

No-Bake Peanut Butter Chocolate Cheese

Recipe or Instructions...

- Grind the biscuits in a chopper until they form a smooth powder. Add melted butter and give the chopper another whir so the biscuits and butter are well-combined.
- Pour this mixture into a 7-inch springform pan, spread it out evenly, and press it using a spatula. Refrigerate it for 15 minutes so the bottom layer of your cheesecake is ready.
- In the meantime, put ½ cup heavy cream in a bowl and lightly beat the cream using an electric beater for 2-3 minutes. Set it aside for now.
- Add the cream cheese in another bowl and beat it with an electric beater until it smoothens up.

ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES

Advantages:

- Users can find delicious recipes and learn cooking
- Encourages users to submit recipes
- Encourages housewives, foodies, chefs
- Users can find healthy recipes and diet plans

There are no disadvantages except the fact that someone needs to update the website regularly.

APPLICATIONS

- Finding Recipes
- Having online presence
- Submitting Recipes

CONCLUSION

The website helps users in improving cooking skills, provides opportunities for everyone to get online presence and earn some fame and recognition. In this online era, and busy world, this kind of websites are very important.

FUTURE SCOPE

The website can be used in future to add more sections where a user can type their recipe, link their video, and submit it, which in-turn could be checked at the backend and reviewed and published. And some money and swags could be provided if more than 5 recipes are provided by a user. This should help more housewives to gain strength, fame and recognition for their inherent talents.
